

provides that a default judgment may be entered based on pleadings and/or evidence submitted at hearing by a non-defaulting party. The Board was represented by counsel who rested on the record.

II. JURISDICTION

The administrative hearing was held pursuant to R.I. Gen. Laws § 42-14-1 et seq., R.I. Gen. Laws § 5-65-1 et seq., R.I. Gen. Laws § 42-35-1 et seq., and the Regulation.

III. ISSUE

Whether the Respondent violated R.I. Gen. Laws § 5-65-10.

IV. MATERIAL FACTS

Based on the pleadings and exhibits entered at hearing, it is undisputed as follows: The Respondent entered in an agreement on November 22, 2021 with a homeowner in Narragansett to perform work on a deck. The Respondent accepted a deposit by check from the homeowner in the amount of $3,250. The Respondent failed to perform any of the work contracted for despite the homeowner contacting him. The homeowner filed a complaint with the Board on May 18, 2022 regarding the Respondent. The Board investigated the complaint and issued a report on June 7, 2022. The Board found various statutory violations by the Respondent including that he failed to return the deposit to the homeowner. Department's Exhibits Two (2) (agreement with homeowner for work entitled "invoice" noting payment of deposit; copy of check); Three (3) (inspector's report); Four (4) (Notice); and Five (5) (Notice of Intent to Assess Civil Penalty).

If any Party to a proceeding fails to answer a complaint, plead, appear at a prehearing conference or hearing or otherwise fails to prosecute or defend an action as provided by these Rules, the Hearing Officer or Board may enter a default judgment against the defaulting Party or take such action based on the pleadings and/or other evidence submitted by the non-defaulting Party as the forum deems appropriate. Challenge to such an order shall be made as a motion for reconsideration per § 1.15.6 of this Part.

V. DISCUSSION

A. Legislative Intent

The Rhode Island Supreme Court has consistently held that it effectuates legislative intent by examining a statute in its entirety and giving words their plain and ordinary meaning. In re Falstaff Brewing Corp., 637 A.2d 1047 (R.I. 1994). If a statute is clear and unambiguous, “the Court must interpret the statute literally and must give the words of the statute their plain and ordinary meanings.” Oliveira v. Lombardi, 794 A.2d 453, 457 (R.I. 2002) (citation omitted). The Supreme Court has also established that it will not interpret legislative enactments in a manner that renders them nugatory or that would produce an unreasonable result. See Defenders of Animals v. DEM, 553 A.2d 541 (R.I. 1989) (citation omitted). In cases where a statute may contain ambiguous language, the Rhode Island Supreme Court has consistently held that the legislative intent must be considered. Providence Journal Co. v. Rodgers, 711 A.2d 1131, 1134 (R.I. 1998).

B. Standard of Review for an Administrative Hearing

It is well settled that in formal or informal adjudications modeled on the Federal Administrative Procedures Act, the initial burdens of production and persuasion rest with the moving party. 2 Richard J. Pierce, Administrative Law Treatise § 10.7 (2002). Unless otherwise specified, a preponderance of the evidence is generally required to prevail. Id. See Lyons v. Rhode Island Pub. Employees Council 94, 559 A.2d 130 (R.I. 1989) (preponderance standard is the “normal” standard in civil cases). This means that for each element to be proven, the fact-finder must believe that the facts asserted by the proponent are more probably true than false. Id. When there is no direct evidence on a particular issue, a fair preponderance of the evidence may be supported by circumstantial evidence. Narragansett Electric Co. v. Carbone, 898 A.2d 87 (R.I. 2006).

C. Relevant Statutes

R.I. Gen. Laws § 5-65-10 provides in part as follows:

(a) The board or office may revoke, suspend, or refuse to issue, reinstate, or reissue a certificate of registration if the board or office determines, after notice and opportunity for a hearing:

(10) The board may take disciplinary action against a contractor who performed work, or arranged to perform work, while the registration was suspended, invalidated, or revoked. Deposits received by a contractor and ordered returned are not considered a monetary award when no services or supplies have been received.

D. Whether the Respondent violated R.I. Gen. Laws § 5-65-10(a)(10)

It was undisputed that the Respondent did not perform the work for which he entered into a contract with said homeowner and did not return the homeowner's deposit. Therefore, pursuant to R.I. Gen. Laws § 5-65-10(a)(10), the Respondent is ordered to return the homeowner's deposit of $3,250. It is noted that the Respondent's other statutory violations determined by the Board were addressed in a separate final order issued to the Respondent.

VI. FINDINGS OF FACT

Based on the foregoing, the undersigned makes the following findings of fact:

1. A homeowner filed a complaint on or about May 18, 2022 with the Board regarding the Respondent failing to return a deposit given for work which was then not performed.
2. A hearing was scheduled for July 28, 2022 at which time the Respondent did not appear. As the Respondent was adequately notified, the hearing was held with the Board resting on the record.
3. The Respondent entered into a contract on November 22, 2021 with said homeowner to perform work and took a deposit of $3,250 and did not perform the work and has not returned the deposit to said homeowner.
4. Pursuant to § 1.17 of the Regulation, the Respondent is declared to be in default for failing to appear at the hearing.

5. The facts contained in Sections I, IV, and V are incorporated by reference herein.

VII. CONCLUSIONS OF LAW

Based on the foregoing, pursuant to R.I. Gen. Laws § 5-65-10(a)(10), the Respondent is ordered to return the deposit of $3,250 to said homeowner and confirm the same with the Board within 20 days of the date of this decision.
