1. Prepayments assumptions for Mortgage-Backed Securities, Collateralized Mortgage Obligations and Other Structured Securities were generated using a purchased prepayment model. The prepayment model uses a number of factors to estimate prepayment activity including the time of year (seasonality), current levels or interest rates (refinancing incentive), economic activity (including housing turnover) and term and age of the underlying collateral (burnout, seasoning).

5. The Company routinely assesses whether declines in fair value of its investments represent impairments that are other than temporary. There are several factors that are considered in the assessment of a security, which include: (a) the time period during which there has been a significant decline below cost; (b) the extent of the decline below cost; (c) The Company's intent and ability to hold the security; (d) the potential for the security to recover in value; (e) an analysis of the financial condition of the issuer; and (f) an analysis of the collateral structure and credit support of the security, if applicable.

When the Company has determined that an other-than-temporary decline in the fair value of the security exists, the cost of the security is written down to its fair value and the unrealized loss at the time of the determination is charged to income through the recognition of a realized capital loss. There were no other than temporary charges recorded during the three months ended March 31, 2022.
